

Vocabulary

The following are vocabulary words that will be covered in our reading selection this week. Please talk with your child about the meanings of these words and how they were used in the selection. Since the meanings of these words are what is most important to having your child understand the text, we will not be concentrating on the spellings. Your child should, however, be able to recognize and pronounce the words by sight.

Words:

Spelling and Decoding

The following are words that your child will need to learn to read and spell. They are words that occur often in what we will read this year, and they are words that your child will need to use in his/her writing.

- 1.
- 2.
- 3.
- 4.
- 5.

The following words have patterns that we are studying this week. Please work with your student to see if he/she can make other words that have the same spelling pattern (underlined portion). Your student will use this in his/her writing.
